Recovery and Resilience Facility (RRF)

Greece 2.0 National Recovery and Resilience Plan

The Greek Government's Economic Recovery and Resilience Plan (RRP), Greece 2.0 aspires to change the existing economic profile and market dynamics via ambitious reforms and focused investments towards an extrovert, competitive, green and digital growth model.

The RRP financed by the EU Recovery and Resilience Facility (RRF) intends to allocate EUR 18.4 billion in grants and EUR 12.7 billion in loans to support investments and reforms across businesses.

In this context, the loan program intends to facilitate the provision of financial incentives to the private sector and promote private investments.

The loan program will finance projects that are aligned with the (5) strategic pillars:

Time is of essence! You need to take advantage of the coming months, evaluate your business model and move to the dimension best suited to seize the investment opportunities offered through the RRP . Acting in a timely fashion is crucial for corporations, especially when Greece is facing a historic "economy rebound" due to the magnitude of funding expected to be allocated through the RRF loan program.

RRF loan program principles

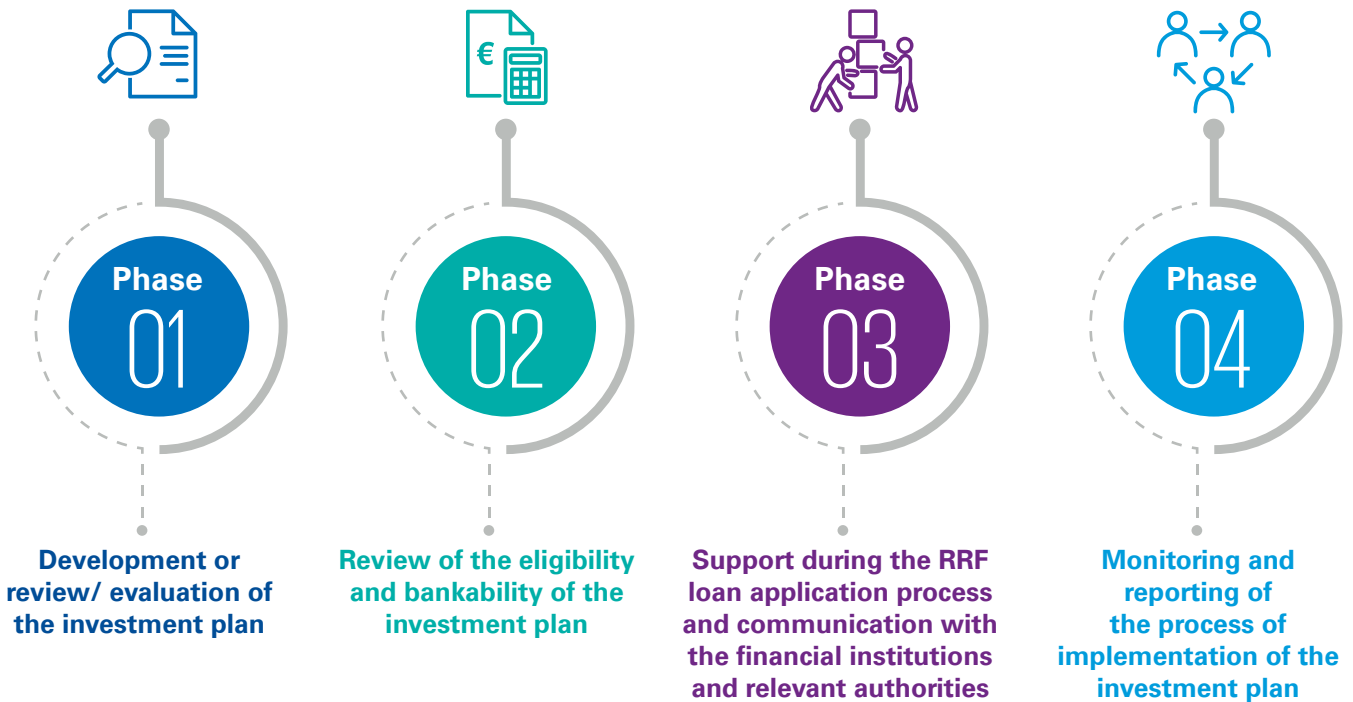

RRF loan program outlines a sustainable recovery by following the main principles below:

- Funding only projects under the five eligibility criteria.
- Maximum RRF loan contribution set at 50% of project value.
- Participation of banks and investors (at least 30% and 20% contribution respectively).
- Co-financing, no Greek State guarantees.
- Loans to be provided through International Financial Institutions (IFIs) and the Greek banking system.
- Exclusively for private sector, based entirely on market criteria, with no Greek State involvement.
